

KEY RESUMES

Brad Nichols
Landscape Architect | Planner

Education

In 2000, Brad received a Bachelor of Landscape Architecture from the University of Arkansas. Brad is currently applying for Licensure in the State of Colorado.

Professional Experience

Brad brings to YOW experience from a variety of positions in the landscaping field as well as engineering and planning. He has been involved in all phases of the Land Development field, including design, construction documents, bidding, and processing. These skills have been applied on a variety of projects including schools, retail centers, housing projects, and parks.

Prior to joining YOW, Brad worked at Plan West Inc. in Denver, Colorado. During his time there he worked on an Osteopathic University in Parker, housing development projects in Wheat Ridge and Berthoud, and several commercial sites in Thornton; mainly concerning site planning and landscaping.

While in Arkansas Brad worked at a design build Landscape Company. There Brad was a project manager and head designer. The company dealt mainly with residential development. Prior to that Brad was employed at an engineering firm where his main responsibilities included grading plans, site plans, landscape plans, and irrigation plans for fueling stations across the country.

During his short time at YOW, Brad has been involved in the conceptual design of retail centers and business parks as well as amendments to development plans and landscape plans.